About

Michael Miladinović is a Junior Associate at ZEILER and focuses on international commercial arbitration and dispute resolution. He has experience in disputes in the energy sector and other highly regulated industries.

Before joining ZEILER, Michael worked in international tax law at Ernst & Young, where he advised on cross-border matters involving global minimum taxation. This experience strengthened his economic understanding of legal matters and his ability to work with complex, international and highly regulated legal frameworks.

Michael holds a master's degree in business law from the Vienna University of Economics and Business, which he completed with distinction. During his studies, he specialized in international commercial arbitration, international investment arbitration and energy law. His master's thesis examined the evidentiary treatment of witness statements from prior proceedings in international arbitration. He also participated in the Frankfurt Investment Arbitration Moot Court and the DLA Piper Rome Investment Arbitration Pre-Moot.

Michael works in German and Bosnian/Croatian/Serbian (native), English (fluent) and French (basic knowledge).
